Country

United Kingdom

Country Profile

The number of social enterprises in the UK small business population is likely to number approximately 471,000, with social enterprises more vulnerable to changes in the public sector. nearly 9 per cent of the UK small business population are social enterprises.

The Social Enterprise: Market Trends 2017 report revealed that roughly 1.44 million people are employed by social enterprises. Of the approximately 471,000 UK social enterprises, 99,000 social enterprises had employees and 371,000 with no employees.

Description

Fat Macy's is a restaurant and a catering service. The organization is a social enterprise that serves delicious home cooked food at supper clubs, events, and offices across London. The restaurant and catering service also trains and supports young Londoners living in temporary accommodations and helps them move into their own homes. Fat Macy's helps chefs build skills for independent living such as food hygiene, cooking, financial planning, and running events. They also, of course, provide practical work experience.

Fat Macy's has ten catering clients. They have helped 15 young adults get Level 2 Food Hygiene certifications and put £7,100 towards deposits on new homes for their employees.
